

income rises for needy, hard working people such as small businesses, pensioners, unpaid volunteers, and sincere unemployed people who seldom earn more than a pension. We don't have to support organizations supporting income rises for semi rich people working for a corrupt system at the expense of approximately the poorest 95% of people in the world. We should be encouraging people to lobby for lower costs instead of higher wages. In countries like Australia, where wages and costs are too high, the economy is damaged by the creation of inflation and unemployment. There is a much better system, where everyone could be so much better off than supporting organizations that deceive people that they are all good. They deceive people they are good by supporting some good things like shorter working hours, opposing globalization, company mergers and job layoffs. There is a much better system where those in these organizations such as the Trade Unions would be so much better off.

We don't have to follow the mainstream, which is wrong and on the way to destruction. We can be happy and completely different to the mainstream by doing God's desire.

Imagine how good life would be in a fairly regulated system so everyone was well off. There would be no ungodly things like: unnecessary or ungodly products and services, unnecessary work, waste and inefficiency. Also there would be no serious competition that disadvantages and destroys honest hard workers to the advantage of the corrupt, rich and powerful. People would enjoy work that is easily found and not have to compete to look for it. You would not be part of the system where you have to disadvantage hard working honest people by causing them poverty and unemployment in order for you to gain money and employment. People who use their money or time for God's desire are not guilty of these things.

Such a good system can only be formed if people like you obey God and change from working for a corrupt, inefficient system to a much better system.

Please help to achieve such a good system by sharing this information with others, as we need to care about them.

The Workforce Deception and Corruption

Prosperity is good if people use their wealth for good reasons, and all deserving people are well off. We need to seek God's desire and a better system so that prosperity and blessings will come. We should not seek prosperity in a corrupt system because this approach is causing poverty and corruption.

Many are deceived without being aware of it. Like pawns in the game, they are then manipulated to unintentionally deceive others. People who are not on their guard unintentionally deceive friends and family members, despite loving them.

A major deception is that almost all occupations are good. A lot of paid occupations are good to be part of and deserve credit. However there is evidence most occupations in the workforce are not good due to the system's inefficiency, corruption and unnecessary work. People do not realize this. We need a better, fairer system and workforce.

Many people who work for the corrupt system are honest, intelligent people who work hard. They would change the world if they worked for a better system. I respect many of them as friends. As they are subtly deceived we need to show them love and reveal a better system to them.

Many occupations involve not working for beneficial or Godly purposes. They promote unnecessary or evil products and services. They teach and encourage selfishness, pride and a lust for money and the world. They involve misleading and deceiving people into worldly things and away from God. Therefore many occupations are doing more harm than good.

Many professions under the systems authority, including scientists and believe we need the existing system.

We need to do God's desire which clearly says not to yoke with evil or be part of the corrupt world system. Maybe then will we see great joy and healings in people who are coming to God.

It would be very interesting to start a fully committed group or community that did similar things to the Apostles. Everyone could work hard for the Lord. Some people who are doing useful things that are financially profitable could continue them if they are not for a corrupt system and involved working with believers. People in professions may be better off working part time to enable a balanced life with plenty of time used for God and helping other people. This would help fund the ministry. But the majority could do full-time volunteer work for God. If the group became large enough and some wealthy Christians shared their wealth and the group did not spend their money on unnecessary things, no one may need to work for money at all. People who refuse to work, who could easily work, would not be supported by the group. All could share and volunteer to work hard on something that is useful that they enjoy. People could do similar work using the same skills as they currently do. Christianity is not just about sharing and distributing information. A Christian community may need many useful professions. But the big difference would be they would not be doing it the way of corrupt system. Instead they would be using the best methods available and be about volunteering, sharing and not worrying about money. The main focus would be to do God's desire, and use time and money to benefit the community and to inform people. This could include sharing the truth, praying for people and caring for people. People could also be educated with useful information on subjects they wish to learn.

The great news is you don't have to be part of the corrupt system that is enslaving and deceiving almost everybody to compete for money to spend on unnecessary things. We don't have to be pawns in a game being manipulated by the Illuminati. We don't have to work for their system, which means working for the Illuminati's plan to control the world with a one world government and force everyone to worship Satan (Rev 13). We don't have to study mainstream education that deceives people to compete for money in a corrupt workforce and forces people to study unnecessary things they are not interested in. We don't have to work or live with unbelievers. We don't have to suffer in poverty and sickness. We don't have to be part of or distracted by man's mainstream festivals, fashions, fiction and entertainment. We don't have to risk and invest money in corrupt banks and companies. We don't have to buy and do unnecessary things, which don't give us time or money for God's desire.

We don't have to be members of evil organizations that encourage selfishness, greed and boasting. Some of these organizations are involved in organized crime and communism. They also disadvantage and don't support formed today, and we don't need many people. People could still mix with their friends and meet other people not in the group.

There are plenty of exciting things that people could do such as researching truths that have been suppressed. There is so much to read, especially on the Internet. There is probably a much more efficient and beneficial way to do almost everything. This technology does exist, but has been suppressed so that existing monopolies profit enormously, remain unthreatened and maintain control. We need people to put in time to find those who have the technology, which has been suppressed. It is impossible for one person to find the best methods, do God's ministry and run the system effectively. The solution is that we could form a highly efficient group. People could work from their own homes in their own time, which would be more efficient and less stressful. We could communicate with people who have suppressed technologies, which are better than those publicly available. We could benefit from their technologies, and they may even join our group. These people would often be hard done by, clever, hard working, honest people who would be willing to help.

A list of reliable Christian people and businesses could be formed so that the group would be led to the best people and services. Members of the group could communicate from their existing homes. This can be done efficiently via the Internet or phone. However it may be better if some people did move to the one area to enable more direct contact.

More efficient systems would mean people would be better off both health wise and financially. I have read numerous sources claiming anything from cures for cancer to free energy devices have been invented. People within our group could prove these things to the sceptics, which could mean even more members for the group. People could also work to expose corruption and false doctrines so other people can be warned.

Some examples of exciting beneficial things could include better and more efficient: weather forecasts, scientific discoveries, natural drug free medical cures, disaster avoidance, learning and teaching. This is because people would be researching the best methods available and observing and recording in a more efficient way instead of working for the corrupt system controlled by the Illuminati and Satan. Imagine how much less stress, bad company, workplace bullying, and unhappiness there would be. Instead there would be more joy, contentment, work interest, happiness and honest friendships.

There is much hope as we can choose not to follow the god of this world, but worship God so that we can enjoy a much better life to come. The important thing is to inform people with the truth instead of doing unnecessary things. We also need to support policies that benefit society. There are simple political solutions, but we really need a system like below in order to implement them. It is important that you don't doctors encourage suppression of the truth. For example, conflicts of interest occur. If the truth were told, it could mean people are put off from a particular profession or are subject to extensive ridicule. People are therefore likely not to tell the truth to avoid these things. Many inventions and discoveries that could have greatly benefited many people have been suppressed in this way. Much corruption has been suppressed, which has resulted in the detriment of society. A profession that is part of and loyal to a corrupt system may mean that you have to be corrupt to work the way the system requires. This is because you may have to obey and use corrupt methods. Fortunately some people expose what is happening and choose to leave or be sacked from the profession. There is a lot of corruption exposed on the news in the Illuminati controlled media. But this must be the tip of the iceberg as there is much more suppressed. If people do wrong, the natural thing is to suppress it. You can therefore safely assume that there is widespread corruption in every mainstream system. The danger in working for the system is that one could be working for the Illuminati and Satan, who control the system.

The corrupt mainstream medical system forces and teaches people to take unnecessary and harmful drugs or therapy, to the benefit of the drug companies who have suppressed natural cures.

In most schools a teacher would have to teach what the system wants even if it is bad for them and their students.

People promoting or getting people interested in paid jobs would have to advise people to do something that is wrong in most cases. Anyone in the public service or in a large company would probably have to do and recommend things that the corrupt system does. For example if you knew a better way to do something, you would not be able to use it or advise people of it. You would have to do wasteful things that deceive and hinder people, which is the goal of the Illuminati behind the corrupt system.

The more people the conspirators lure to work for them, the stronger they become. It also means that less people are working for Godly purposes. Many may be totally unaware that they are working for a conspiracy, unlike those who would be part of the conspiracy. We should be turning away from yoking with the evil world system. There are many different ways to work for God's purposes, where people can use all their existing skills. The Apostles stopped working for the corrupt system to follow Jesus.

There could hardly be a better way to get control of the world and force everyone to worship Satan, than to deceive everyone into being very busy but doing the wrong things, so they are distracted from the truth. The Bible says that we should be busy and work hard, but we are to use our time for God's desire. Being busy doing the wrong things is only helping Satan and hindering God's work. There are too many people seeking to earn more money than what they need, and not enough people volunteering to do

God's desire. Due to corruption there is not enough money to reach those who deserve it.

A main controlling measure is to deceive the majority that the purpose of life is to spend most of your time to make money and spend it on really unnecessary things. The Illuminati deceive people into thinking that making excessive money is easy and good, despite the fact that almost all small businesses fail. People trying to earn excessive money require more goods and services than someone who is satisfied with enough income to survive. These goods and services include energy, fuel, water, rent, interest rates, registrations, licenses and essential products. The problem is that these goods and services are mostly purchased from those with wealth and power.

It is not money that is bad; it is the corruption you have to yoke with to get it. As a result it is a gamble to get more than you need to survive which means you are likely to lose more time and money than you gain.

The worldly deception that everyone must try to make and keep more money than they need for the essential things is dangerous for many reasons. The first reason is because almost everyone believes and is deceived by it. Secondly, it is transferring wealth and power to those planning a one world dictatorship. Thirdly, it is sending people broke, so they are forced out of business, and banks and multinationals can take their properties and gain more power. Fourthly, it is taking most of peoples time so that they cannot learn and share the truth or expose the powerful. Fifthly, it is destroying peoples lives, such as by causing them stress related illnesses and making them envious and greedy for money or each others professions. Also it is contributing to poverty, drug addiction, suicide and crime. Therefore many people will be so misled and wounded that they won't want to expose those planning to take over the world.

One article mathematically proves that people who freely volunteer to who work hard, or people who use all their excess income for God's desire are a net benefit to society. However people who earn excess money and don't use it for God's desire have a negative impact. The term "make money" is deceptive. Unless you are a bank or a mint it is illegal to create money. It has to come from somewhere to the disadvantage of someone else. But if you use your money and time for God's desire you are not guilty of disadvantaging others.

We should be positive about doing something that is good and Godly that will fix these problems. But instead of this people are conditioned to be positive even if they are working for the world's system, despite the fact that they are often doing the wrong thing, and that things are going wrong. They therefore encourage others to follow suit. Other people are therefore lured into the mainstream system. This includes the commonly known; workforce, education system, churches, pursuing of material goods and popular things.

To succeed financially in the world system you often have to be on the cheap car, enough food, clothes and some extras if they don't waste their money. The medium income in wealthy countries is approximately as much as a pension. That means Most people do not earn much more than a pension in countries of high standards of living. Many of these poor people honestly work hard. They include almost all small businesses, volunteer workers and many sincere unemployed people who are trying very hard. Therefore in countries of high standards of living if you earn more than a pension you would be gaining excess money or more money than you really need for yourself compared to others.

Mostly it is not the fault of those in need, but the fault of corruption, disasters, wars, multinationals, unjust prison detention, their country's policies, illness, abuse, technical problems, governments, high costs, trade unions, and other unfortunate circumstances beyond their control.

Something must be wrong when approximately 90% of the world's population are worse off financially than the average pensioner, while at the same time the richest 5% are seeking to earn more money for themselves. Wealth distribution is totally corrupt, because the hardest working, most honest, ambitious, intelligent and innovative Christian people may be poor while lazy and corrupt people may be rich.

Approximately 95% of small businesses are losing money, after initially expecting to make excessive money. In rich countries, real unemployment is about 20%. 30% of people worldwide are estimated not to have enough employment for subsistence. Approximately 1/3 of the worlds population go to bed hungry and a much greater number are considered to be in poverty.

The Bible strongly states that you must use your time or money for God's desire If people don't do what God says, the economic system will soon deteriorate so badly that almost everyone will be worse off anyway. Money gained now is better well spent, because if held on, to it will soon be taken from us anyway.

Financially fortunate people, earning more than a pension, normally invest money in or purchase from those with wealth and power. They mostly spend their money on unnecessary things. The wealthy and powerful are therefore gaining more wealth and power. They are deliberately or inadvertently weeding out small businesses so that without competition, they can grow larger and merge to form a one world government.

A Positive Conclusion with the Solutions

The answer is to form our own system by forming a group or community where everyone works in a non corrupted environment. People would be so much happier and there would be many less problems. The Biblical system was about sharing and living efficiently where everyone was well off. People could work on what they enjoy. There would be much less stress and forced routines. The good news is that this system could easily be much better system could be used. Someone working for the weather bureau could start or team up with a Christian weather station over the Internet so that a better service could be formed. Unlike the existing weather Bureau it could use many successful methods, and not only the ones approved by the system. It could also use volunteers to form a dense network, instead of paying people to work for a corrupt system. Currently, volunteers who ask to freely help are denied the equipment, which could be very affordable if the best methods were not suppressed. Computers and the Internet would be the best method of transmitting and measuring data automatically, but the system chooses a more expensive, manual and less reliable way. Often, data and forecasts are old, and not relevant to your exact area. They encompass too large a region, and don't give specific things that would give you a mental picture of what is going on. For example, the Bureau and the Media only give the minimum and maximum temperatures. This gives no true indication, of temperature throughout the day, as you could have a maximum of 35 degrees with it being above 32 degrees for most of the day or alternatively, you could have a maximum of 35 degrees with most of the day below 25 degrees. The bureau fail to give useful information such as graphs of temperature, rainfall, cloud cover, humidity, visibility and sun temperature. There are also normally no forecasts of these trends for individual areas. Good weather cameras are rarely used, and good advice is often ignored.

As a result of poor communication and a corrupted system, people have been killed or experienced great damage due to a lack of adequate warnings. A low cost volunteer network would solve all these problems, save money and benefit farmers, tourists and the general public.

A scientist could start researching the best methods available to help the community, in an independent honest system. This could be individually volunteering to provide useful information to the community.

Someone in an employment agency could organize and encourage people to volunteer to help others in a Christian environment, instead of pushing them to work for excessive money in a corrupt system.

The good news is that we don't have to be part of this evil system if we do God's desire.

The Big Picture of World Statistics

The below may not apply if we start a better system as explained in the conclusion. This system should solve the problem of wealth inequality and poverty for those involved.

All statistics and facts stated are proven at <http://www.advantagein.com/statistics.htm>

It is essential that the system needs to help people on low incomes or welfare more, provided they use their money and time for good or necessary purposes. Many of these people are struggling to afford food and accommodation.

On a pensioners income people would or should normally be able to afford a reasonable house or flat, a same wavelength as the world and therefore risk corruption by it.

Charging Money Suppresses Goods and Services

Charging money for goods and services suppresses them in many ways. The mainstream system asks for dollars to be paid for almost everything. This prevents important goods and services from reaching those in need. Also it discriminates against the needy and creates greed and poverty. The material would be unaffordable for most people and therefore deter people. People would either need to be carrying money or risk large financial losses if using credit cards. It creates hassle and time wasting keeping bookwork, posting checks and transactions. If people had to pay to see my web sites I would be lucky to get one reader per month. Instead I get over 100 per day and people can donate if they wish. Would you be reading this information if you initially had to pay for it?

Often those selling products not only don't get their material used to benefit society but also mostly fail to make a profit. However we should offer people money or something in return for their help.

A regulated group focussing on sharing and not money is the solution.

Waste is a Goal to Gain Control

The Illuminati encourage and fund evil projects that cause waste and other problems to control people. The problems include wars, arms races, depressions, stock market crashes, major sporting events, movies, election campaigns, unnecessary and bad education, perishable products and drug companies. They lend money at interest to wasteful projects, so that they can profit from the interest and place the increasingly indebted countries and people under more control. The goal of the Illuminati is for people to waste time and money so that they can gain more control. They distract people from edifying purposes and gain from the lending of money at interest.

Their system causes so much confusion, which controls the population. Just think about how the system wastes time and money and also causes confusion. Many times one wonders why things are done in a certain way, and one can think of a better way to do them. Many people put time and expense into promoting a better method, only to have their ideas suppressed.

Unnecessary paper work, duplication, and excessive questions in documents cause time and money to be wasted. The Illuminati use answers from unnecessary questions on forms, to gain private personal information. This enables them to monitor how they are destroying society, and enables them to work out the next subtle plan of attack to gain greater control.

Inconsistency also causes confusion. Standards vary so much. For example some countries use metric measurements while others still use imperial. Dates are written in many different ways such as: 25-7-01, 7/25/01 and 01/7/25. In some programs selecting yes is the same as selecting no in another. These things could easily be made standard.

The Danger of Competition Instead of Fair Regulation

People say that we need serious competition to have fun, keep prices down have a large variety of goods and services. However, this is not true. In fact the opposite is happening, where powerful corrupt people and companies are competing against, taking advantage of and destroying those people and businesses that are less well off. With the fair businesses gone, the monopolies raise prices, and their products are often of poor quality so that they need replacing. This means more profit for the multinationals at the honest persons expense. Destroying honest innovators and small businesses means that good products and services are suppressed. This is resulting in a smaller variety of goods and services, and making these more expensive.

Instead, God's way is a rightfully regulated fair go for everyone where everyone is well off. If that was the current practice, small businesses along with everyone else, would be doing well and there would be such a great variety innovative products and services. Instead these products and services have been suppressed, so that we have to rely on a corrupt system. Fair price control should be used to benefit everyone and stop companies from making large profits. Competition encourages many outlets to sell the same things, which causes confusion to shoppers, who spend excessive time shopping around. There is also often a lack of information from staff that do not know the product. Instead of competing with each other, small specialist outlets focusing on very similar things could work together and share profits. Fair price control could be used to ensure fair and low prices. More fair regulation would ensure groups of businesses don't become too domineering. This would give a more fair chance for small specialized businesses because they would not have to compete. Instead of some businesses marketing many products that other nearby businesses sell they could focus more on the ones they know about. The system would be far more efficient without people wasting time shopping around. There would also be less advertising costs.

God's kingdom is about loving, sharing, contentment, praise, joy and giving, which are the opposite of competition. Today we have a system where there are too many people competing to do the same thing, and too few people serving others and doing God's desire. People are therefore taking a limited number of paid jobs and money away from honest people. If one succeeds in a career or enterprise to make money, they are therefore preventing someone else from succeeding under such a competitive environment of limited opportunities. This is causing others to be unemployed or go bankrupt. This is not a problem if people use the money for God's desire. Money and time used for the wrong reasons denies other people an opportunity to help others, and inform people of the truth.

Non-serious competition is probably good when it is for exercise, personal motivation and used as a means to lead people to God. But when it comes to serious competition, it means over training, lust for worldly success, money and medals. There is pride if you win and distraction from doing God's desire. When you lose there is anger, disappointment, envy, regret and resentment. The disappointment and low self-esteem incurred by people losing is causing suicides, drugs, family breakdown, stress, crime, injuries, anger with God, and people not being thankful to God. These things are not from God.

A Conspiracy Comparison

The situation can be compared to everyone being in a pool of water where the temperature of the water is rising. The people running the system have deceived almost everybody into thinking that they must stay in the water even though it is better when they get out. The lure in the water is money, which people hope will give them unnecessary pleasure in the world. They are in such vigorous competition to find money that almost no one is aware of what is going on.

Some are not aware they are being cooked to death, and have not bothered to seek the truth, as the temperature is increasing gradually. Others hear the truth which only a few people spoke of, but they did not get out, as they did not believe the truth. Very few people climb out to safety. You could easily be one of them.

The Answer to a More Efficient and Happy Workforce

Many people don't enjoy their job, but could easily do so with a small change that would also benefit society more.

Much of the workforce is losing efficiency as people are forced to work longer hours and less staff are employed. Such manipulation is causing many problems, from accidents to fatigue. Instead of the current professions in the corrupt system, which are highly, inefficient people could leave them and do almost the same thing either by themselves or with other honest volunteers who are interested in it. The problem is that most people are seeking a career that is corrupted, which provides excess money, instead of volunteer one which would be much better, more enjoyable and more efficient for the community.

For example a school teacher at a state or non-Christian school could change to teaching in a Christian school.

A government nurse or health worker in a non-Christian organization could change to working with a Christian who uses and teaches the best available natural cures.

A member of parliament could change from being part of a mainstream political party to become an independent.

I was originally thinking of working for the weather bureau but after studying the system, I realized that a
